

Aaron Kirkham is the Program Manager of the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) Warehouse Management System (WMS). He has extensive experience with transformational initiatives with over a decade of leading modernization efforts for DLA.

During his time with DLA, Aaron has worked with Business and IT organizations to modernize applications that facilitate cataloging, provisioning, and supply chain business processes. In his current role, Aaron is leading the DLA Warehouse Management System modernization effort that has deployed an SAP solution to fifty-four distribution and disposition centers globally.