June Lee, M.D., Ph.D.

Chair, NIH Artificial Intelligence Interest Group
Clinical Pharmacologist and Program Director, National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, National Institutes of Health

Dr. June Lee has been serving as the Chair of the NIH Artificial Intelligence Interest Group since 2003. She has been working at NIH since 1989. Dr. Lee joined the NICHD in 1999 from the NEI. She is a clinical pharmacologist and program director whose responsibilities include writing RFA/RFP initiatives, advising grant applicants, making funding recommendations, monitoring awarded grants and contracts in pharmacology and therapeutics. Dr. Lee currently serves on the National Emerging Technologies Committee and is the chair of NIH Biomarker Interest Group.

Skills and Interested Areas:

AI healthcare initiatives
Automatic therapeutic systems
Therapeutic robots and robot network
Biosensor and therapeutic sensor network
Biomarker & digital biomarker sets
Therapeutic master algorithms sets
PK/PD/PG algorithm sets development
Diagnostic and therapeutic data analytic strategy

BG 6710B RM 2323B
6710B ROCKLEDGE DRIVE, BETHESDA MD 20817

301-435-6987

Leejun@mail.nih.gov