

Amy Taira, JELA Program Manager, Carahsoft

Amy has been with Carahsoft for thirteen years, supporting Department of Defense for both the Adobe Enterprise and Desktop product families. Her team is responsible for seamless program execution and strategic relations across the channel including Department of Defense, Adobe, Carahsoft and the JELA Prime. Amy also dedicates her experience in customer relations to ensure customer satisfaction at the highest level. She is a 2007 graduate of West Virginia University with a B.A in Psychology and Communications.