

Carmen has over twenty-five years' experience as a Cloud Computing, Cybersecurity, Data Science, Data Analytics and Data Management expert. Currently Carmen is a Distinguished Engineer with Insight Enterprises focusing on security focused cloud-based business solutions across multiple industries and technical domains. Carmen is an adjunct professor at Northeastern University Khoury College of Computer Science and the College of Professional Studies teaching graduate courses in Cybersecurity, Data Science, Cloud Computing and Analytics. He is a published author and speaks at industry/technology events.