Charles Onstott

Chief Technology Officer

SAIC

As Chief Technology Officer, Charles Onstott is responsible for driving SAIC's technology strategy across a broad portfolio of technology capabilities, to include information technology, training and simulation, advanced analytics, hardware and platform integration, and logistics and supply chain. I oversee SAIC's research and development, strategic alliances, product management capabilities, and the SAIC Fellows Program.