

Dr. Joseph L. Ronzio started his career as an Information Technology Architect/Engineer and Innovator for companies such as PNC Bank, Foxwoods Casino, IBM/Lotus, Rockwell, The Gillette Company and The Computer Merchant. In 2005, he was able to fulfill a childhood dream and received a commission as a Medical Services Corps Officer in the U.S. Air Force. Dr. Ronzio was deployed with the Air Force in 2015 as the Director of Operations for the 379th Expeditionary Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron. A graduate of the GSA CxO Fellowship program he continues to serve as the Deputy Chief Health Technology Officer for Veterans Health Administration.