

Bryan Freed is a Senior Product Manager within the Webex Calling group, responsible for global public sector and regulated markets. Bryan provides strategic direction and execution for Cisco's Webex Calling platform and how its fits within government, defense, healthcare, financials, and other regulated markets. Prior to joining Cisco, Bryan was a senior product manager at Lumen providing voice of the customer and strategic guidance for their unified communications platform in the SMB, enterprise, and public sector markets.