

ROMAN SCHWEIZER

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Aerospace & Defense Policy Analyst

Roman Schweizer joined Cowen Washington Research Group in August 2016 has over 15 years of experience in Washington, D.C., having served as a government acquisition official, industry consultant and journalist. Prior to joining the Washington Research Group, he was an acquisition professional with the US Navy's Littoral Combat Ship program. Previously, he directed a team providing Congressional and media strategic communications support to senior Navy officials on high-profile ship acquisition programs. Mr. Schweizer has also consulted on U.S. and international defense, aerospace, homeland security and technology market sectors to Fortune 100 clients on behalf of DFI International and Fathom Dynamics LLC. He has been published in Inside the Navy, Inside the Pentagon, Armed Forces Journal, Defense News, ISR Journal, Training and Simulation Journal, the Naval Institute's Proceedings, and the Navy League's Sea Power. He earned a bachelor's degree in history from the American University.