Ishan Kaul, Managing Director, Blockchain

Ishan has 21+ years of experience in IT and management consulting with a proven track record across a variety of industries. He is a successful leader of large and diverse teams implementing technology solutions enabling business transformation for Fortune 500 and Public Sector clients, per-specifications, on-time and within budget. Clients have included leaders in the financial services, hospitality, high-tech, and US Federal Government areas.

Ishan has considerable program, project and portfolio management experience with proven accomplishments across the full life cycle of IT delivery, with focus in software implementations and infrastructure initiatives. He has also had extensive exposure to numerous technologies in software development, systems integration and architecture design and implementation.