

Kim Garriott, Chief Innovation Officer, Healthcare, NetApp

Named as one of HIMSS 2020 Most Influential Women in Health IT, Kim Garriott's more than 20-year career has been focused on improving health outcomes through innovation, data management and interoperability. As Chief Innovation Officer for NetApp Global Healthcare and Life Sciences Kim works with private and public health sector clients to leverage NetApp technologies to drive innovative data management strategies. Prior to joining NetApp, Kim led the development of a first of its kind, research data-sharing platform for the 29 agencies and offices of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.