

Kirke Everson, Partner, Intelligent Automation

Kirke has broad range of expertise in management consulting strategy and transformation, intelligent automation, information technology transformation, program management, information assurance, Federal financial management and risk management. Kirke primarily support clients in the Defense and Intelligence sector and has supported clients in civilian Federal agencies, state and local government, large public and private companies, and non-profit organizations. Kirke also leads KPMG's Intelligent Automation (IA) efforts across Government and helps Federal, state and local governments implement IA solutions.