

After being recruited through the Veterans Administration, Kirt went from an unpaid volunteer to a National Trainer / Coordinator for the USDA in under ten years. With roots in rural SD and as a proud descendant of the Blackfeet Nation in Montana, he's grateful to serve our Country and to be part of keeping people fed and conserving the land for future generations.