

Justin Hissong, Chief Business Officer and Principal Consultant

Justin Hissong is CFO and Principal Consultant at Stratosphere Consulting. He began his consulting career with Oracle in 2007 before becoming a Lead Business Architect with Pegasystems in 2010, with the distinction of being the longest tenured public sector business analyst in the ecosystem. In 2012, he joined Cooper Consulting as a Lead Business Architect and Pega Practice Lead, later striking out on his own as Solveitt Consulting in 2015 to work with Stratosphere in the State of Maine COE.

After working closely with the company for several years, and possessing a complementary skill set, Justin officially joined Stratosphere Consulting in January of 2017, and continues to be instrumental in the burgeoning California Department of Public Health's accelerated rollout of a COE and multiple licensing implementations. Justin holds his Bachelor of Finance from the University of Texas at Arlington and his MBA from the McComb School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin.
