

Luke Anderson, Dude Solutions

Luke comes from a background in energy automation and HVAC Controls and has been with Dude Solutions over five years. Luke serves as president of his HOA board where he has proudly only been sued once. Luke and his wife, Aleks, love to travel — especially with their dog, Rosco. Luke's current role as Enterprise Solutions Consultant allows him to consult with leaders of communities across the country to help them manage safe, efficient and clean buildings and infrastructure.