Mark Hurter has 20 years of experience in the fields of application development, communications security, IT systems administration, and information security. Currently, he is a DevSecOps Specialist for CyberArk Software Inc. He holds a bachelor's degree in Computer Science from Troy University and a Masters of International Business from the University of Alabama. He maintains several IT industry certifications including VMWare's VCP6, MCSE: Server & Cloud Infrastructure from Microsoft, and AWS Certified Solution Architect Associate. In his free time, Mark can be found exploring the outdoors ranging from the mountains to the bottom of the ocean.