

Phil Jackson is the General Manager for Adobe Experience Manager for Public Sector. He has extensive experience in digital transformation and modernization, having worked closely with customers in Public Sector and regulated industry for twenty years. Phil played a pivotal role in delivering anywhere, anytime access to medical imaging, transforming healthcare, and worked closely with federal law enforcement to reimagine critical applications used in tactical operations on mobile devices. He is a respected thought leader and speaker in the industry, known for his outstanding leadership and strategic thinking. Phil holds a B.S. in Criminology and Security from Northeastern University.