

As part of the White House Leadership Development Program, Sean Peters is currently on rotation to the Office of Management and Budget Office of the Federal Chief Information Officer, serving as a Deputy Program Manager for the Federal Acquisition Security Council Project Management Office. His career of more than 25 years includes working on commercial aerospace, NASA, and Nuclear Regulatory Commission programs. He is the Chair of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, Nuclear Energy Agency's Working Group on Human and Organizational Factors. Also, in his role as a White House Fellow, Mr. Peters is using his experience in engineering, risk analysis, and human and organizational factors to support the Administration's IT Strategy in the areas of cybersecurity and supply chain risk management.