Steven Boberski is a Genesys Public Sector CTO. He brings over two decades of experience designing, delivering, and selling large enterprise VoIP, unified communications, and contact center solutions to help government agencies create superior engagement with constituents and employees. Steve has provided leadership, strategy and systems engineering expertise to help multiple organizations obtain, maintain, and enhance compliance with mandated IT policies, including FedRAMP.