

In 1998, Cory Coleman his career in the United States Army as an active duty enlistee and separated honorably after 9 years of service.

Mr. Coleman holds a GSA Federal Executive Chief Information Officer (CIO) certificate from Carnegie Mellon University (2009); a Bachelor's of Science degree in Business Management from National-Louis University (2005); and graduate certificate in Information Security (2013) from the University of Maryland University College (UMUC). Mr. Coleman is also pursuing a Master of Science in Management with a concentration in Information Systems and Services degree from UMUC.

Mr. Coleman is a recipient of the Presidential Service Certificate and Presidential Service Badge for Honorable Service in the White House.

Mr. Coleman works for the Securities and Exchange Commission as an IT Specialist. He is the Enterprise Network Management Systems (ENMS) Program Manager. In this role, Mr. Coleman provides comprehensive Program Management support and engineering for Application Performance Management (APM), Network Performance Management (NPM), and Systems Performance Management (SPM).

Mr. Coleman resides in Clinton, MD and enjoys reading, traveling, golfing, music, and enjoys being a handy-man around the house. He is married and is the proud father of twins... a boy and girl!