

Param Soni has more than 25 years of experience in providing leadership and managing enterprise-wide programs in the public and private sectors. Param is currently Chief Architect of EPA. Param provides leadership and vision for information management and technology solutions across the agency. Param leads agency wide initiatives for PortfolioStat, Enterprise Roadmap, Shared Services, System Lifecycle, Enterprise Architecture, Cloud Computing, and Information Security.

Prior to EPA, Param was President/CTO of AppsHub and Director at PwC. Param also had senior level positions with IBM, PRC/Northrop Grumman, and Loral providing leadership, program management, design, and delivery of information management solutions.

Param is a frequent speaker at national and international conferences like Federal Computer Week, NASA, Digital Government Institute, and AFFIRM. Param has a B.S. and a M.S. from University of Maryland, College Park, MD. Param is an elected Board Member and serves as Treasurer at AFFIRM. Param is a winner of the 2014 Fed 100 award.