

Jeff Johnson is an Executive Director within Ernst & Young LLP's (EY) Technology Risk and Security Service Line. He co-invented, and serves as the Coordinating Partner for EY's Cyber Economic Risk Insights™ offering – a unique cross-discipline cyber and economic risk management, threat intelligence, and active/passive counter-intelligence solution.

Jeff joined EY after leading one of the largest pension pay programs in the world. He served as the DFAS Director for the $40B per year Military Retired & Annuity Pay Program and the DFAS Executive Sponsored Leveraging Technology Initiative. Jeff also served as the Grant Thornton Country Director for the DOD Task Force for Business Stability Operations in Iraq. Jeff founded three leading-edge information security, threat intelligence and fraud control technology start-up companies: Meta Security Group [CEO & Inventor], Vigilinx [EVP MSS & Intelligence & Inventor], and Oversight Systems [EVP & Inventor]. He was also one of the early members of the Board of Technical Advisors for ArcSight. From 1991 to 1999 Jeff served in strategic leadership positions within the information warfare and threat and vulnerability management communities. Jeff's early career during the 1980's included 7 years with Naval Intelligence supporting afloat and ashore operational intelligence and counter-intelligence efforts.

Jeff draws upon his 30 years of successful risk management, financial services, information assurance, intelligence, counter-intelligence, technical surveillance counter-measures, information warfare, fraud control, crisis nation-based international development and organizational transformation experience to consistently deliver highly innovative solutions.
