April Chen is a Product Manager in Iron Mountain's Government business. She is responsible for Iron Mountain's federal content management and document conversion solutions. She has managed several projects facilitating the success of thought leadership within an organization, including Iron Mountain's Federal Information Asset Framework. Prior to Iron Mountain, she worked as a Consultant in revenue management and contracting for the healthcare industry. April graduated from the University of California, Berkeley and holds an MBA from the University of North Carolina's Kenan-Flagler Business School.