

Faisal Iqbal brings more than eight years of engineering, consulting and project management experience to his current role. He is currently focused on providing mobility, virtualization, and cloud solutions for several agencies throughout US Public Sector. He is a regular speaker at industry events and is a spokesperson around technology initiatives such as datacenter consolidation, desktop virtualization, mobility, telework, cloud computing, thin client initiatives, and IT consolidation. Prior to Citrix, Faisal worked at Bechtel Corporation as an architect delivering next-gen IT solutions to key commercial and government projects worldwide.