

Kevin Sherry is Senior Director, Red Hat Consulting Public Sector, where he is responsible for driving innovative open source programs for the Federal and State/Local/Education government markets. His responsibilities include all aspects of business development, program management and project delivery; he serves as a liaison between Red Hat Consulting and the Red Hat & JBoss teams. Mr. Sherry manages the Red Hat teams responsible for the design, development and implementation of enterprise open source solutions and clouds within top government departments, bureaus and agencies.